Dear Lou,

As you bring to a close more than thirty-two years of Federal service, I want to join in wishing you the fullest measure of enjoyment and satisfaction in the years ahead. I particularly want you to know of my deep appreciation for the many important contributions you have made in the Support Directorate.

Throughout your fourteen years as the Agency's top Records Management Officer you have exerted a profound influence on the development and conduct of this vital program. Largely as a result of your leadership, your professional competence and your ability to win acceptance for your ideas, we have an Agency-wide program that has significantly benefited the intelligence efforts of CIA and other members of the intelligence community.

Your record of achievement is certainly a proud one and a source, I'm sure, of lasting satisfaction to you.

With every good wish for your continued success and happiness.

Sincerely,

R. L. Bannerman
